

'Redeeming Love' by Francine Rivers
Book Review by Sue Moll

This book is based in the California of the 1850's God rush. It is the story of Michael Hosea, a man who listened to God and acted on what he heard. Like his namesake in the Bible, he married 'Angel'; a prostitute. This inspiring book follows the story of Hosea and explores the emotions of 'Angel' and Hosea as they learn how God can reach right down into the depths of their troubles and slowly heal them. This is a book that can be read quickly; however it also warrants a slow reflective read.
